PETITIONS FOR PAVING

Petitions for paving DeFoe street from Newport avenue to Voltaire street and for paving Del Monte avenue from DeFoe to Ebers street were presented to the city council this week by the C. of C. committee, headed by F. B. McElwee, who was largely instrumental in getting the requisite signatures.

Petitions are also being circulated for the paving of Santa Monica avenue and also Cable street from the bay to Sunset Cliffs.

Ocean Beach Library

Miss Margaret Rankin Takes a Very Optimistic View of Bond Situation

Would that the rooster which appeared in the last issue of The Beach News had crowed truthfully, but alas! not so, for our library bonds did not carry, having lost by 205 votes. All bond issues must carry two-thirds of all votes cast. There is, however, one chance—there is before the state legislature the test case of the Torrey Pines road bonds which lost just about the same as the library bonds. If the state legislature decides that two-thirds of the votes on the bond issue is sufficient, it will be precedent and the library bonds will be declared carried.

However, if this is not decided within the year we shall again give the people an opportunity to vote.

If all the precincts had gone over the top as O. B. did we would have had a large majority. O. B. is wide-awake and stands for progress. We are proud of the showing it made in the last election. It may be called upon again to vote for the library and we want to be 100 per cent for it. May every one register and be ready to vote when it does come up again. "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again," is our motto.

MARGARET RANKIN,
Librarian.

Special sermon will be preached in most churches next Sunday dealing with the subject of kindness to animals

THE ROOSTER STILL CROWING

City Council Declares Library Bond Issue Passed Despite Advese Opinions of City Attorney and the Courts.

The city council has declared the library bond issue of $250,000 passed, although the proposition lacked 205 of the 7718 votes claimed to be necessary for passage.

The vote on the library bond issue at the election April 3rd was 7513 for and 3519 against. The number of votes at the bond election was 11,577 and the two-thirds vote necessary to pass the bonds is 7718. Many voters apparently ballotted on only one of the two propositions on the bond ballot.

When the totals were ascertained the city attorney gave his opinion that the bonds had failed. He cited four supreme court decisions and quoted law, as follows:

"It shall require the votes of two-thirds of all the voters voting at such election to authorize the issue of bonds."

It was recalled that a local superior court judge had decided in favor of the Torrey road bonds, where the issue received a two-thirds majority of the vote on the one item but failed to get the necessary two-thirds of the entire vote cast at the bond election. This ruling has been appealed and decision has been pending for several months.

REGULATIONS FOR AERIAL TRAVEL

Residents of Loma Portal and the Roseville Junction recently filed with the common council a request for legislation to regulate the use and operation of airplanes especially in reference to altitude over buidings and landing places.

REMEMBER THE MAIN CAFE

With a varied and complete menu to please everybody and with service that counts, Mrs. D. Humason announces that there's only two places to eat—at home and at the MAIN CAFE, 5069 Newport avenue. Special chicken dinners are served for 50 cents, and good meals can be secured morning, noon and night, under most agreeable and satisfactory conditions.

LIVE WIRES AT "THE OFFICE"

A big snap in real etate is announced this week by those two wide-awake realty men, F. B. McElwee and W. A. Thomas, who can be seen at "The Office," corner of Bacon street and Newport avenue. Their phone number is Point Loma 70-WK, and if you wish to buy or sell or rent houses and real estate they are ready to accommodate you in every way, both being realty men of long experience with a thorough knowledge of beach environments.

A MAGNIFICENT MERRY-GO-ROUND

Above is a remarkably good picture of the fine and costly Merry-Go-Round located in a large and spacious building on the ocean front walk at Santa Monica avenue and Abbott street. O. F. Davis is the affable and able owner and manager of this excellent amusement diversion for both young and old, and also has proprietorship of a popular picnic pavilion directly adjoining the Merry-Go-Round building.

'BE KIND TO ANIMAL WEEK' TO END SUNDAY

Next Sunday will be known throughout the world as "Humane Sunday," ending the annual "Be Kind to Animal Week," a feature of special days which has been officially approved by President Harding and many foreign rulers.

The purpose of such a week is to bring home the lessons of kindness and mercy toward animals and to create a wider interest and broader sympathy for dumb creatures, particularly the cat, the dog and the horse; so closely associated with modern domesticity.

TOP-NOTCH THEATRE BOOKINGS

Manager Ray Ericson is being complimented on all sides for the gilt-edge attractions now being booked at the Ocean Theatre. And what's better, the public is recognizing the fact by crowding the house at nearly every production. It's a wise move to attend early and secure your favorite place. The current bookings appear in another column.

BAIT AND BOAT SERVICE

"Jack" Neumont, who is as well liked as he is widely known in both San Diego and Ocean Beach, has opened an up-to-date bait house at the south-end of Mission Bay bridge. Besides fresh bait of all kinds, "Jack" keeps on hand a large and varied assortment of fishing tackle and also has a number of good boats for hire. Cigars, tobacco, confectionery and soft drinks can also be obtained by his customers at prevailing popular prices. When you go a-fishing on the bay, make "Jack's" place your headquarters and you may rest assured of satisfactory service.

HAPPY SECRET TOLD

Mrs. Anna Hamm Married to J. W. Jobes Last Tuesday

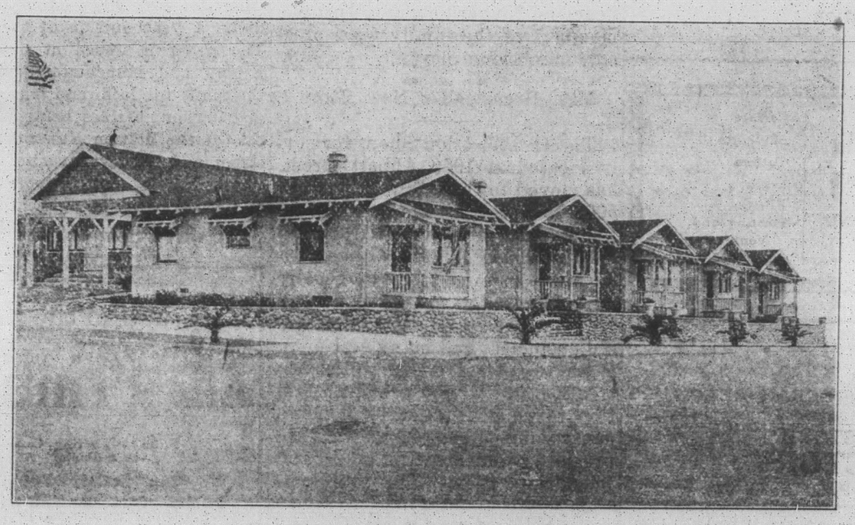
News of the marriage of J. W. Jobes and Mrs. Anna Hamm at Elsinore, near Los Angeles, Calif., last Tuesday, April 10, comes as a big surprise to their many friends here. They were married at the Presbyterian parsonage by the Rev. Mr. Hunt and have returned here to reside at 4447 Voltaire street.

The marriage was intended to be kept a secret for a while by the contracting parties, but the little grandson of the groom first divulged the news at the Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Jobes have the hearty congratulations of The Beach News staff for a long life of joy and prosperity.

JEWELER LOCATES HERE

Francis B. Munroe, a jeweler of thirty-five years' experience and one of the Waltham factory's best watchmakers, has just opened a jewelry and watch repairing establishment at Froide's photo studio, opposite the postoffice. Besides being an expert watchmaker, Mr. Munroe has been a noteworthy traveler and knows how to please the public in all his dealings.



"SUNSET CREST"

THE PROPOSED COUNTY CHARTER

Statement by the Citizens' Anti-Charter Committee Shows the Measure to Be Voted Upon Will Increase Taxes and Raise the Cost of County Government.

That the proposed county charter, to be voted on at a special election May 15, not only will fail to reduce taxes but on the contrary will raise the cost of county government, is the gist of a statement issued today by the Citizens' Anti-Charter Committee, 509 Southern Title Bldg., San Diego.

"The charter farmers have admitted that the charter, if it passes, will not lower taxes," says the statement. "If this be true, what excuse can there be for a charter?

"In the report of the county grand jury rendered a few days ago, (and the grand jury was admittedly pro-charter), we find the following:

"'—the general tax rate, independent of schools, is less than it was ten years ago—'

"To anyone who reflects upon what the growth of San Diego county has been in the past ten years and the additional fact that costs of materials and wages are far higher than they were at that time, this statement shows conclusively that the county of San Diego is economically and efficiently run.

"The truth of the matter is that the proposed charter is merely an instrument by which the farmers are seeking to impose upon the people a highly centralized, one-man form of government which is opposed to all American ideals of government and can be used for the benefit of a favored few to the detriment of the common people. Big interests will thrive on it, but the man in the street will suffer.

"We urge the voters of San Diego county to vote down this charter, which would make possible a political machine greater than any ever established in the history of California. Don't forget the election is May 15. Don't forget to vote against Bossism and One-Man Government."

Everybody is invited to be present at the Ocean Theatre next Monday night to hear an open discussion on the Charter subject. It will be a regular meeting also of the O. B. Chamber of Commerce.

O. B. DRY GOODS

Owing to the incompletion of the building, the grand opening of the O. B. DRY GOODS will be postponed until further notice. However, we will have special for Saturday a few of our new spring goods. Utility ginghams, latest shades, 34 inchs wide, regular price 40 cents, sale price, 29 cents. Great reduction in Tissue Ginghams and Zephyr Ginghams. Every article will be greatly reduced. Come and look us over.—Adv.

ONE REAL O. B. FACTORY

There's one factory already in town and there'll be others if Beachites will boost and support home industry with their patronage. The O. B. Cigar Factory, of which "Roy" Burkhardt is the jolly optimistic proprietor, has been enlarged recently and three cigar makers are now kept busy producing the O. B. Special and Highway brands of cigars. If your dealer doesn't handle the local brands, it would be greatly to your interest to remind him of the delinquency, and that Ocean Beach comes first, San Diego second, and California third!

Don't "hide your light under a bushel measure." A business card at small cost in our advertising columns will tell the world and your neighbors that you're alive!

Ocean Beach cars from San Diego connect for Mission Beach at 8 and 11 o'clock a. m.; 2 and 4 o'clock p. m.

ON WITH THE DANCE

At the "Garden of Eden"

WELCOME HOME, JACK!

Ocean Beach sincerely and heartily welcomes you, men of the Navy! This glorious resort is yours to have and to hold now, tomorrow and forever and a day! Eat, drink, dance and be merry! We salute you!

The fleet is home again! Let's all rejoice!

The Ocean Beach Boosters' Club has had complete charge of the arrangements of the big barbecue and other special features for a rousing welcome on the part of Ocean Beach to the men of the Destroyer Squadron.

Everything being propitious, it therefore goes without saying that Sunday's event will be a real top-notcher of its kind. Boosters Benbough, Burkhardt, Hughes, Peltcher and Thomas have worked like Trojans to make the affair a success in every way. Over a thousand dollars has been obtained by a thorough canvass of the Beach and city enthusiasts, and donations of all sorts of foodstuffs and paraphernalia of various kinds has been procured for carrying out a big program of amusements for the boys in blue.

The crack-er-jack K. of P. band will give hourly outdoor concerts during the afternoon and evening, while a greatly augmented orchestra will furnish a continuity of fine dance music at Benbough's Garlen of Eden.

Special drills have been arranged as part of the outdoor program and there will be boxing bouts, pie-eating contests, running races, broad and high jumps, sack races and a dozen or more like events to keep everybody entertained. Prizes for the best made cakes will also be awarded.

At different times throughout the celebration motion picture cameras will click off pictures of the various scenes to be shown later in the local theaters and all over the world.

The Ocean Beach Boosters' Club is certainly deserving of high commendation for putting Ocean Beach on the map and establishing an enviable record for community hospitality to the men of the navy.

THE O. B. CANDY KITCHEN

In the building formerly occupied by the postoffice, A. Demos has established an up-to-date candy kitchen and is now ready to serve his patrons with fine home-made candies and all the confections of the season. Mr. Demos has moved his family to the beach and will make his permanent residence here.

IF there's anything you need, you'll get it in our Classified Ads for only a dime a line, cash rates.

Kindly mention The Beach News in your dealings with the patrons of our advertising columns.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS

Now is the time when the grapefruit, oranges and lemons are at their best to prepare the candied fruit.

Candied Grapefruit. — Remove the rind from grapefruit leaving one-quarter inch of the pulp. Cut in long narrow strips, cover with cold salted water and bring to the boiling point. Drain and repeat four times, the last time boiling until tender. Now drain and weigh. To each pound of the pulp allow a pound of sugar and one-half pound of water. Boil the sugar and water for five minutes, then add the grapefruit rind and simmer gently until transparent—about thirty minutes. Drain, roll each piece in granulated sugar and dry on a tray away from the direct heat. Serve in place of after-dinner mints.

Date Bars.—Beat three egg yolks, combine with one cupful of sugar and stir until creamy. Sift one cupful of flour with a teaspoonful of baking powder and a pinch of salt, add one cupful of chopped walnut meats and one pound of dates, stoned and quartered; beat three egg whites stiff, add alternately with the flour mixture to the yolks and sugar. Bake in a small dripping pan about thirty minutes. Remove from the pan, cut into bars, roll in powdered sugar or ice with orange icing, decorate with stoned dates and nut meats.

Lightning Cake.—This is certainly a most delicious cake when it is put together with a creamy filling. Cream one-fourth of a cupful of butter, with one-half cupful of sugar. Add the well-beaten yolks of four eggs and one teaspoonful of vanilla extract. Mix one cupful of pastry flour with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and add this alternately with one-fourth of a cupful of milk to the first mixture. Spread in two shallow pans, cover the dough with the stiffly-beaten whites mixed with three-fourths of a cupful of sugar and sprinkle with one-fourth of a cupful of sliced almonds over all. Bake in a moderate oven for about a half hour. Spread with a custard filling, flavored with orange or lemon between the layers.

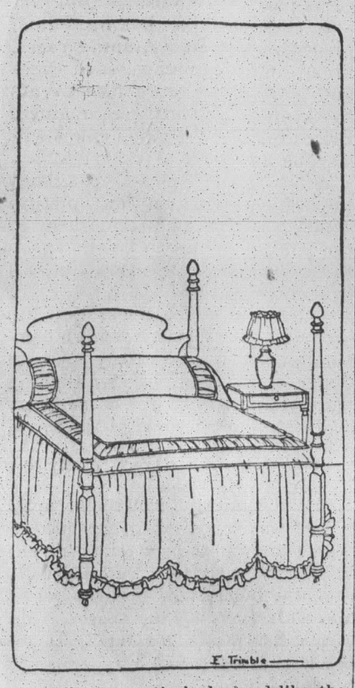
APPROPRIATE FOR GUEST BEDROOM



A taffeta or satin bedspread like the one illustrated is very easily made and is very appropriate for the guest bedroom. Any pastel shade is pretty and the lamp shades and window draperies should be of the same material. The room in the sketch was developed in rose with mahogany furniture and a gray rug.

ABE RUEF
WAS A PIKER!

Under the mask of Home Rule, the framers of the proposed county charter are asking the voters of San Diego County to consent to a

ONE-MAN GOVERNMENT

If you will lift the mask, you will find hiding beneath it the equipment for a political machine that would make the notorious Abe Ruef look like a piker.

There is to be established a County Controller who would:

Dictate the election of the Board of Supervisors and then boss them;

Control all the employes of the county;

Have exclusive say about all county roads;

Do all the county purchasing;

Through the Budget, specify how much or how little every department of the county could spend;

Run the Welfare Board, the County Schools, the County Library and the County Surveyor;

Be appointed and thus beyond the recall;

Be kept in office by the votes of three of his "rubber stamp" Supervisors.

Wittingly or unwittingly, the Freeholders have opened the door to uncheeked Bossism.

If you want to say for yourself how you shall be governed, keep the reins in your own hands by voting

NO on the CHARTER.

I, AND MY BODY

I got this body at the "fleshing shop"
When it was small, and pudgy like and red;
No teeth it had, nor could it stand erect—
A fuzzy down grew sparse upon its head.

At sight of it the neighbors stood and laughed,
Then tickled it, and jogged it up and down;
Then some one put it in a little cart,
And wheeled it gaily through the gaping town.

When it grew bigger, and could walk and run,
I wet it in the pond above the mill,
Or took it to a building called a school,
Where I had to keep it very still.

And later when its muscles stronger grew,
I made it sow and reap to get its grain,
And tanned it in summer's fiercest suns,
And toughened it with wind and cold and rain.

It served to keep me near my friend the Earth,
It helped me well, to get from place to place,
And then sometimes a tiny bit of ME
Has worked out through its hands and face.

How long I've had it, so long it seems
Since first they wrapped it in a linen clout,
And now it's shrivelled, patched, and breaking down
I guess, forsooth, that I have worn it out.

And I—? Oh bless you!—I am ever young!
A soul ne'er ages, nor is bent, nor gray,
And when the body breaks, and crumbles down,
The "Fleshing Shop" is just across the way.

Mrs. Grenewalt's New Store

The O. B. Notion Shop, formerly located at 1959 Abbott street, has moved to their new location at 5003 Newport avenue and will be known hereafter as THE NEWPORT SHOPPE. They have added much to their stock and many new things yet to arrive. They will be pleased to meet all their old customers and many new ones. With high-class goods, courteous treatment to all and prompt attention to your needs, they hope to merit your patronage, as they appreciate your acquaintance and friendship as well as your patronage.

WELCOME VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. F. Cooper and their happy trio of children, Evelyn, June and Mavis Cooper, and also Mrs. Rohlberg, mother of Mrs. Cooper, were very welcome visitors at The Beach News office last Wednesday evening. We sincerely hope they will soon delight us with their presence again.

Wedding Bells to Ring

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Suder of 354 East Fifteenth street, New York City, have announced the engagement of their eldest daughter, Miss Katherine Suder, to Mr. Jack Put. The engagement was made known at a novel party given at the Suder home April 1. During the evening Mr. Put presented his fiancee with a magnificent diamond engagement ring. Miss Suder is a niece of "Katherine."

O. F. Davis, the polite and progressive manager of the popular Merry-Go-Round, returned last Wednesday from a week's trip up the coast, visiting Venice, Long Beach and Los Angeles on business and pleasure combined. Mr. Davis is an optimist and booster of the first water and predicts the best season the Beach has ever experienced.

The sum of $10,000 has been appropriated by the city council for the installation of water mains in Mission Beach.

If you are in any way interested in the proposed new city charter, you'll do well to be in attendance at the Ocean theater next Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Froide, the photographers of 5019 Newport avenue, had a very peasant surprise this week by the visit of their two nieces, Helen and Marion Geave, of Huntington Beach, who formerly lived at Ocean Beach.

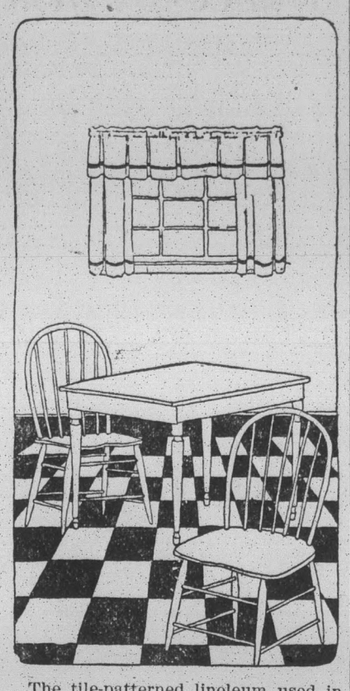
ADDS COLOR NOTE TO THE KITCHEN



The tile-patterned linoleum used in this kitchen and its breakfast corner gives the color note to the room. It may be blue and white, or black and white, or any other combination of color with white. The white muslin curtains have a narrow band of color to match that in the linoleum. The white enamel furniture is really quite practical, as it can be washed so easily.

OPPORTUNITY IS AT YOUR DOOR

Ocean Beachites Are Saving at the Spiggot and Losing at the Bung By Not Joining Their Local Chamber of Commerce.

In every community that professes to be alive there exists a commercial organization, commonly referred to as a Chamber of Commerce.

Those organizations constitute the medium through which the business and professional men work for the best interests of the community in which they live.

The immediate function of these organizations is to make their respective communities bigger, busier and better.

With such an aim and motive they are entitled to the support and co-operation of every man whose business is located in that community.

The Chamber of Commerce is the first organization a business man should join and the last one he should resign from, and if he can afford to belong to but one, the Chamber of Commerce is the one most entitled to his support.

Every business man owes his community a debt, created by the fact that the community has made his business possible.

The easiest, most feasible and most efficient manner in which this indebtedness can be liquidated is by joining the Chamber of Commerce and giving it some money (a membership fee) and some time.

The success of a Chamber of Commerce depends upon the extent to which it is properly financed and the number of constructive suggestions and criticisms supplied by the membership.

Money alone will not make a successful Chamber of Commerce; suggestions and criticisms alone will not accomplish the desired results.

In every live community in the United States you find an active Chamber of Commerce; in every unprogressive city in the United States, you find an inactive one.

It is as impossible for a live community to thrive without an active Chamber of Commerce or an active Chamber of Commerce to exist in a dead community as it is for oil and water to mix.

As the progress and prosperity of every community depend upon the ability of the commerce body to function properly, it should be the first concern of every citizen to take an active interest in the affairs of the commercial organization of his community.

RADIO

INTERFERENCE OF RECEIVING SETS

Each, When Tuning for Distant Station, Acts as a Continuous Wave Transmitter.

We have explained that the continuous, fairly steady whistles, usually heard while tuning for the distant stations, was due to a combination of the carrier waves of two stations which were very nearly on the same wave length. There is another series of whistles always present which very much resemble the whine of a mosquito both in tone and amount of annoyance produced. These are caused by the receiving sets of other listeners. Every receiver using a vacuum tube detector with a regenerative circuit is a potential transmitter. In fact it contains all the essentials of a radiophone transmitter on a small scale.

The detector tube when oscillating produces oscillation exactly similar to the carrier wave of the radiophone stations. The frequency or wave length of this wave can be varied by changing the tuning of the receiving tuner.

The usual procedure in tuning for a distant phone station is as follows: Put the detector tube in an oscillating condition after the tuner has been adjusted near the point where experience has taught us to look for the broadcasting stations, then move the dial slowly across the approximate point where the stations are usually heard. The carrier waves are located by a whistle which starts at the upper limit of audibility and goes down the scale until it becomes so low that it is no longer a note. At this point the set is in exact resonance, and if the tickler, coupling, or plate tuning inductance is decreased until the detector tube stops oscillating, the very best adjustment is obtained for reception of that particular station.

Unfortunately while this listener is going through this operation his receiving set is acting as a continuous wave transmitter, and is producing some inharmonious wails in the phones of his neighbors who happen to be already on the wave of the same station. The continuous wave sent out by the receiver combines with the carrier wave of the transmitting station, producing an audible note. If the operator could tune his set as simply as was described above there would be very little interference, but he usually whistles back and forth across the wave of the transmitting station several times. Often several listeners who have been getting the concert perfectly will get restless between selections and get their tubes to oscillating and whistle up and down a few times.

All listeners should be very careful to keep their detectors in a non-oscillating condition as much as possible to reduce this annoyance of interference between receivers.

Opinions seem to vary considerably in regard to the comparative amounts of energy inducted into the antenna by the "single circuit" or conductively coupled, and the "three circuit" or inductively coupled receiving set.

Previous to the introduction of the single circuit very little trouble had been experienced with beat notes from receiving stations. This was no doubt due to the fact that receiving sets were rather few and far between; also up until a few years ago there was a very small percentage of c. w. telegraph and phone stations so that there was no reason why an amateur should keep his tube in oscillation condition. On the contrary, he was very careful to keep it just below the oscillating point, that being the most sensitive adjustment for spark signals.

With the telephone and c. w. telegraph transmitting stations, i. e., tube transmitters, came the single circuit tuner with its extreme simplicity of adjustment, which was so well adapted to the very sharp tuning of the new transmitters. And with the advent of these new transmitters came the necessity for making the detector tube oscillate in order to locate a station on the scale of a receiving tuner. Naturally then the interference between receiving sets became noticeable at about the time that the single circuit sets became numerous, and this helped to prejudice the minds of the radio public against this type of receiver. However, the fact that the single circuit arrived at about the same time with the inteference was by no means the only reason for believing this tuner to be the main cause of the trouble.

For instance in constructing a single circuit or conductively coupled tuner the difficulty is in obtaining regeneration at all points on the scale. This seems to show that there is more resistance in this circuit than in the inductively coupled type. The main point of difference is the close coupling to the antenna. Being conductively coupled, the coupling to the antenna circuit is at maximum at all times. This causes the radiation resistance to be high, which seems to be the factor that keeps the tube from oscillating freely without unusually close coupling between plate and grid circuits. Thus we are led to believe that this circuit is one to avoid if interference with other listeners is to be reduced.

BOY SCOUT TROOP NO. 59

Our newly organized Boy Scout troop has had a set back. Last week the Scout master, William Roffe, met with an accident while playing with them, severely injuring his knee, probably incapacitating him for several weeks. The meetings in the club house will continue in charge of Tudor Scripps, president of the indoor meetings. The librarian, Mrs. Woodward, has obtained several Scout books, which are now ready for circulation amongst the members of the troop. We wish for Mr. Roffea speedy recovery and resumption of his valuable service to the boys.

Mrs. Perkins and rMs. Brown

Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. Brown avenue to Mrs. Emery and son of La Jolla, who plan to turn it into a chicken ranch. Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Perkins are moving to Los Angeles.

Wednesday afternoon some of the girls of the school conducted a candy sale at the club house, the proceeds to go towards organizing a girl's club. Dorothea Lawrence was in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Defrenn are very happy in having with them their son, Mr. Fred Defrenn and bride, from Lancaster, Calif., who are spending part of their honeymoon in Pacific Beach.

P. T. A. Association

The P.-T. A. met in the school house Tuesday evening with an unusually large attendance. Mayor Bacon, who is a prominent Scout, gave a most interesting and instructive talk, telling of his esperiences along that line for several years. The P. B. Scout troop and all others present much enjoyed it. After the meeting the social committee, Mrs. Rogers, chairman, served coffee and cake.

Church News

Rev. Mr. Millar's sermon was especially prepared for Communion Sunday from the text, "He Prepareth a Table For Ns." Two members of the Sunday school, Carlyle and Duane Van Patten, joined the church by the receipt of their letters from the church at San José.

The C. E. society met Sunday evening, the subject "Wise and Unwise Ways of spending the Sabbath and Carlyle Van Patten was the leader. The Junior C. E. society met Wednesday. The subject was "Happy Sundays." and Genevieve Houston was leader.

Mr. Millar left Tuesday to attend the meeting of the Presbytery in Los Angeles. In his absence the mid-week prayer meeting was conducted byMr. Pfans.

PERSONAL MENTION

Col. and Mrs. Thos. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. John Lynch Davis, Miss Nita and Manny have returned from a most enjoyable auto trip to Sacramento and back by way of San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Hodge have returned from a camping trip through Imperial Valley and the Mojave desert. They were accompanied by Mrs. Dailey of La Jolla.

Mr. and Mrs. Bishop are visiting their niece, Mrs. Follette as Bostonia.

Elizabeth Asher entertained a party of girl friends to tea Saturday, the afternoon being spent in music, games, and refreshments were served.

Miss Laura Easterday has been entertaining a very unwelcome attack of "flu" at the home of her sister, Mrs. Pike.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bayliss and daughter, Miss Mildred, have returned to Pacific Beach after an absence of several months, evidently having decided that after all there is no place like it.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Asher are building a very attractive bungalow for themselves on the bayfront, Mission Beach.

A most enjoyable afternoon of music and conversation was spent at the home of Mrs. Mills and Mrs. Edith Scott in San Diego last Sunday. Those attending were Mrs. L. T. Scripps, Mrs. Honvile, Mrs Woodman, Miss Mae Laury, Mrs. Woodward and Mrs. Harry Woodward. Mrs. Honvile returned Monday to her home at Fullerton.

Mrs. Percy and children are down from Los Angeels for a few days.

There was what might easily have been a fatal accident at the junction of Garnet and Cass streets Tuesday. A touring car containing six persons, collided with a telephone post and as a result were seriously hurt. On account of the attraction this particular post seems to have for reckless autoists the city is going to move it 30 feet further north and it is hoped, out of harm's way. Pacific Beach telephone posts seem to be especially attractive anyway. Another car ran into one near the bridge on Garnet street, breaking it off. On second thought we have come to the conclusion that the posts are in sympathy with the Pacific Beachites, who are resenting the tolls and raised rates! We appreciate their interest and we thank them!

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller are back from a most enjoyable week spent with their son at Long Beach.

Good Morning!

By GRACE FULLER REMICK

Good morning!

Welcome the day!

Rejoice with me today, all ye who love Nature.

Sing praises with me, all ye who love life, activity and power.

Lift up your voice in song, your heart in praise and your eyes in recognition of the beauty and the bounty of the Father's love.

Lift up your ears to hear the song of birds, the hum of bees, and the soft sighing of the happy winds.

Lift up your eyes to behold the skies—blue, blue, so heavenly blue, and embellished with banks of snowy clouds gleaming bright in the sunshine.

Behold the moist earth—warm-hearted Mother Earth, and from her bosom see the tiny green things pushing up their faces to see the light and to feel the joy of being. Each least particle seems to be saying: "Here am I. I have come to do my share in expressing God. I show forth life, and God is the Life of all. I show forth growth, and God is the Law of forever unfoldment.

"I am come to give joy to those who recognize me, even to those whose eyes and hearts are cast down to earth. To them I minister, because I am here to meet their downcast gaze, and to try to turn their thoughts to praise, and to look up toward the light—even as I do. I am always hoping they will look up and try to see what I see, that they too may improve every moment in striving to be what their loving Creator designed them to be; to see what is being unfolded all about them for their encouragement along the way.

"I am not resisting the law of my being, but am LETTING the mighty urge within me have its way and express through me in the most complete and satisfactory way I can."

Look up! Rejoice! Welcome the Day!
